To Whom it May Concern

If you are in the business of international transportation, you need an agency network to support and develop it. A global business requires global contacts. A network can help maintain your current business and can assist in developing new markets. A network that meets annually also give's you the means to meet and make new business contacts.

So why choose Globalink

It's still a "people" business and the members of Globalink are professionals who know and understand their local markets. Companies who are willing to put their reputation on the line and are accountable for their actions.

All companies have achieved a minimum standard in being accepted as a member of Globalink. All work for each other.

A good network is exactly that. A vehicle that allows everyone to participate and bring idea's to the table for the ultimate benefit of the group. Everyone is accessible. Globalink is a continuously developing network, it actively seeks new concepts and idea's which can benefit members and will address many difficult issue's that can have a direct impact on our business lives'.

Globalink has been a worldwide leader in sourcing and providing many value added programs and communication tools. Where Globalink treads, other networks follow.

Make the commitment to join Globalink and support fellow members and you will directly benefit from the investment you put in.

You will be part of a truly global network of business professionals which can offer you unrivalled business opportunities.

Please contact me directly if I can be of any assistance.

Yours sincerely
